Selected Health Equity Activity in State Medicaid Programs

This map identifies state Medicaid programs that have implemented one of the following four specific health-equity related activities: established a Medicaid equity framework; published a Medicaid disparities or equity report; established a formal structure to support health equity work; or incorporated health-equity language into Medicaid managed care contracts. States marked by a darker shade of color have more categories of health-equity focused activities than lighter-shaded states. This map does not encompass all of the potential health-equity related activities a state Medicaid program may have underway - many of which could occur outside these four categories of activities.
